BREVITIES.

A clean shirt is one of woman's best gifts to man.

Mosquitoes begin to realize that if they are to have any fall trade "now is their time."

It is worth one's while to be a Yale

D. D. He has conferred the degree on only three persons during the last forty years.

The total value of the sponges fished on the coast of Syria from $100,000 to $125,000. From $250 to 300 boats, and by about 1,500 men are engaged in the fishery.

The Duke of Argyle has been quoted recently as saying that "there is great romance in crossing the sea to convert souls, but very little in crossing the gutter."

During a severe thunder rust in Syria, the other day, one of the cars of the Journal editor slipped the ladder, and rising as high as the house tops, formed a vast canopy, under which a large number of fashionably dressed ladies found shelter from the storm.

The New York Commercial says:

"We see that seven members of the Arkansas constitutional convention have refused to sign the new constitution.

The clause from which they dissent is probably that one which makes the crime of being ejected on a lone land merely punishable with a fine of $50 and one year's imprisonment at hard labor.

Mr. Charles H. Webb, who is also known as "John Paul," and who is, perhaps, the wildest man in the United States, is about to leave his native land and sketches. Mr. Webb, like

Mark Twain, John Phoenix and Bret Harte, is a Californian, by virtue of his long residence in the golden state, and his book will doubtless be hailed as the latest specimen of California humor.

The late Lord Dalmat's instruction that his political and official documents be sealed up and laid away, to remain unopened until the year 1900, ought to find favor with a large number of American statesmen. Only we would suggest that they may profitably substitute 2000 for 1900, in fixing the period for which their memorabilia are to remain sealed from the prying eyes of an anxious re-

LOUISIANA.

The wrongs of Louisiana will be summarily answered unless the power of the federal government is used to perpetuate liberty and republican institutions, that Grant, yes, Grant, has fastened upon a patient and noble people. Grant and his brother Williams and his brother-in-law Casey created the Kellogg government which the senate of the United States solemnly declared an usurpation, without shadow of law or right to support it. The people of Louisiana have risen in their might to throw it off. There can not be a whole souled man in Georgia, whose heart does not beat in sympathy with this heroic effort to sweep away the leeches that the administration has fastened on a once prosperous and happy people.

Flint the world over, and a worst government than the Kellogg usurpation can not be found among civilized states.

In 1855 it took less than a million dollars to conduct the government of Louisiana:

for the last four years the expenditures have averaged $9,340,000 per annum. The bonded debt has increased $15,000,000 in the same length of time.

And what are the results of this lavish outlay? Rhinosis taxation, decreasing productions, diminishing population, empty houses, deserted plantations, and no security for either life or property. For years the people of Louisiana have endured the rule of the harpies. For years they have tried to cast them off in a peaceable manner, but whenever events were favorable there came the gleam of opposing federal bayonets. The recent dispatch of troops by Grant and his attorney-general to Louisiana was but a part of the policy of the beginning.

Nice distinctions about constituted authorities are useless in such a crisis as this. We have reason to believe that the people of Louisiana do not hope for a government of their own.

They only hope to clear out the gang that are eating out their vitals, and then submit to military rule. Information was received here nearly a week ago that such was the plan of the white people of Louisiana, and that it would be enforced.

The momentous revolution concerns us all, but we cannot too strongly urge that cool common sense is altogether the best argument in perilous times. No outbreak has occurred in Georgia, and none need be apprehended, if discretion is exercised, and hot-headed intellectual zeal dis-countenanced. Our whole hearts go out to the suffering people of Louisiana, and that all of us do our best to bring them any opportunity presents itself, we may be sure that Governor Smith will not hesitate to put us on the right line. Let us stand firm, and keep cool heads and steady nerves.

The dispatches show that the revolution has been complete, and peace reigns. Lieutenant Governor Penn has sent an admirable telegram to Grant, showing that the movement has nothing to do with race, but is the uprising of the people against robbers and tyrants.

From the dispatches now coming in from Washington, "how to restore Kellogg," we have hope that Louisiana may retain her republican government.

The statistics of the great city that is wedged and crowded into the sharper end of Manhattan Island, present many interesting facts. The mysterious disappearance of little Charlie Ross has brought the subject of missing children into prominence, and we have, therefore, culled some facts from the recent police reports of New York, on this subject.

Of truant and lost children 55,447 were picked up in five years—an average of 11,899 per annum. But these were not strictly missing persons. They are children who had been taken from the schools, or who were picked up in the streets before they were fairly missed in their homes.

As a rule their parents were ignorant of their being astray when they were found.

A missing person in the police world is one who, after a prolonged absence from home, or after friends or

POLITICAL NOTES.

The negro Blue has been nominated for the legislature by the negroes of Glynn county.

Unreported democratic nominations for representatives: Baker, W. W. Dewis; Clayton, C. A. Key, editor of the Jonesboro News.

The radicals of the 23d senatorial district have nominated Joel R. Griffin, in Jones county they have nominated Spencer Coleman, a highly colored individual for representative, and in Meriwether two more negroes are seeking to get in the legislature.

Col. Dabney warmly supports Hon.

L. N. Trammell, the nominee for the Calhoun convention, so does Col. Bass.

Col. Pringle supports him, also. Yesterday we heard from that gallant and magnanimous soldier, Gen. Young. The general says that in a week more he thinks he will be able to give a speech for the nominee. We have not heard from the other candidates who contested with Col. Trammell for the nomination at Calhoun. We have no doubt, however, but that they are in line also, or soon will be, at least.—Bonne Commercial.

Governor Lewis, of Alabama, with a view to pleasing the negroes, has appointed to the office of Judge in Dallas county, a negro named Oscar Hunter, who cannot write, and who signs his name to the minutes of the court by a cross mark.

The Gainesville Advertiser—the radical paper of north Georgia, which professes to be opposed to the civil rights bill, has been told by Gov. Brown, following the "Farwell" Joseph's wife, world and cotton patch! Joseph has, at last, returned to his old home, Gainesville, Ga. Brown but before shaking hands with you, however, we propose now to ask God for you for voting for him in 1868 for U. S. senator. Senator John B. Dickey, of Fannin county, and others told us at the time. Goodbye, Gov. Brown!

General Trammell.

This gentleman is just now making himself quite a conspicuous figure, unfortunately for the welfare of our people.

Proclaiming his hostility to the government of the United States, his violent and extreme sentiments are only calculation to inflame the minds of people in other sections. They will not understand that he has not the following of a corporate's guard and that our people loudly condemn his course, and hence his sin is laid at our door, to a greater or less extent. A great intellect he has,

and much has he accomplished for the university of Georgia. But he is persecuting a course that will bring upon him universal condemnation. We sincerely trust that he will cease to aid the enemies of his people in heaping fresh insults and degradation upon us. We appeal to him in the name of his suffering country to desist from his course.

WE HAVE before us a thick octavo volume of 1200 pages, entitled "The Republicans of Louisiana." It was compiled by J. B. Killbreath, the efficient secretary of the Bureau of agriculture, and is a model of what such a volume should be. Any information pertaining to the material resources of that state can be found in the partly volume.

The Griffin Messenger has a very severe article upon Gen. Tombs, for his assault upon the press. The press, as we stated before, will indignantly republicate his slanderous charge.

The Griffin radical convention has adjusted, and Joe Mills is the candidate.

Whoopie! Our last advices do not state whether our postmaster takes the stump.

THE REVOLUTION COMPLETE.

NEW ORLEANS, September 15.—The Kellogg government has been overthrown and the entire city is in the hands of its opponents. Lieutenant Governor Penn has taken the reins of government and will at once install in office the same ticket with McEnery in 1872. Courts will be opened in an hour. It was reported that at once be organized and the entire machinery of government set in motion, not only in this city but throughout the state.

THE FOLLOWING DISPATCH was sent last night by acting Governor Penn to the President of the United States:

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 14th, 1874. U. S. GRANT, President: Hopless of all other relief, the people of this state have taken arms to maintain the legal authority of persons elected by them to the government of the state against usurpers who have heaped upon them innumerable

INSULTS, RUDDERS AND WRONGS. In so doing they are supported by the great body of intelligent and honest people of the state. They declare their UNSWERVING LOYALTY AND RESPECT for the United States government and its officers. They affirm their entire ability to maintain peace and protect the life, liberty and rights of all classes of citizens.

The safety of officials of the United States, it shall be our special aim to defend against all assaults and to treat with the profoundest respect and loyalty. We only ask of you to withhold any aid or protection from our enemies, and the enemies of the republican rights, and of peace and liberty of the people.

D. B. PENN, Lieutenant Governor and Acting Governor of Louisiana.

Four Thousand Copies Extra to Our Regular Circulation warranted.
The Most Splendid Medium for Advertisers Ever Issued from the Constitution Office.
We give notice to the patrons of The Constitution and general advertisers that we shall issue on next Sunday our second great Illustrated Fair Paper, ordered by the City Council. The order of the City Council is for twenty-five hundred copies, with additional orders from other parties for fifteen hundred more. This is the present number of extra copies arranged for, but very probably we shall receive other orders that will swell the list nearly as much again. At any rate the number mentioned will be issued.
As we shall superintend the sending out of these extra copies, we promise that they shall all be sent out from this city by mail within three days of their issue.
THE FAIR PAPERS
is now opening. Let our merchants seize this golden opportunity. Procure space at once.

EDITORS CONSTITUTION.—Please allow me space to express the indebtedness of Mrs. Fletcher and myself to the members of St. Paul church and the congregation for the practical and appropriate token of remembrance which we received yesterday on Saturday morning last, through Mrs. J. C. Watkins.
Pamphlet—P. W. PRIDMORE.
DAMON AND PYTHIAS.—Paul's Church was filled last night with a large and appreciative audience to witness the rendition of the above play by the old Hibernians for the benefit of the Ladies Home. Each one of the actors performed ably and with real spirit role with ease and success. The rendition of the character of Damon and Pythias was extremely good. The repeated applause of the audience during the performance testified to the popular verdict of approval. In obedience to a general desire, the performance will be repeated tonight. Let everybody go.
"HOME AGAIN."—"We were pleased to greet by the hand our genial and jovial friend, Green Adams, of the popular firm of Adams & Bros. He has just returned from an extended trip to the northern cities, to Niagara, up the Lake Law, to Quebec, and other points, after an absence of two months. He comes back so well rested and cheerful that it is almost impossible to examine his trunk very carefully to see if he had no goods in there which he brought home not to be surprised to learn that he brought something anyhow for some fair chamber in this section.
TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.
By the Ladies Memorial Association of Atlanta to the Memory of John Connally.
In the lamented death of John Connally, late city sexton, the Ladies Memorial Association of Atlanta has lost a dear and valued friend, generous and noble, and whose sincere sympathy with our purposes—he was every-ready, and at all times most cheerfully and unreservedly aid in the carrying out of the beautiful resting place of our martyred patriots, and to him more than to any one else was due the present beautiful condition of our soldier's cemetery.
It was with him a pride as well as a pleasure to keep green the spot where sleeps our hero-soldier.
In appreciation of his excellent worth while in life, and to testify our highest respect and deepest sorrow in his death. Be it Resolved That while we bow with humble submission to the will of God in removing from our midst our esteemed friend and neighbor, his many virtues and his christian deportment, can never be effaced from the tablets of our memory.
Resolved That we tender his bereaved widow and orphan our heart felt sympathy in their terrible affliction, and pray that our Father and our God ("who tempers the mind of the soul hunt") may in time heal the deep wound which his loss has inflicted.
Resolved That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the family of the deceased.
By order of the President, Mrs. J. Green, Secy-treas.

A NIGHTINGALE IN KENSINGTON GODDARD.
They passed—the cripple in the chair,
More bent with pain than age;
The mother with her face of care,
The pet, well-buttoned page;
The noisy, red cheeked nursery maid, With straggling train of three;
The Frenchman with his frogs and braids—All, curious, paused to see, If possible, the small, dark bird That, from the almond bud, Had poured the joyous strain they heard, So suddenly, but now.
And one poor poet stopped and thought How many a lonely lay That bird had sung ere chance had brought It near the common way.
When the crowd heard the note. And then, How many must sing the song To whom that hour of listening men Could never in life belong.
But "Art for Art," the poet said, "That sings where no men's feet will tread, And praise and audience fall."
